

Republic Metals Corp (RMC) Silver Bar

100 Oz. Silver Bullion Bar

Precious Silver

Republic Metals Corp, based in Florida, is making its mark on the precious metals market. With high-quality poured bars, RMC has created a unique product with a very low premium over the spot price of silver. They are simply designed and easy to stack.

The complete information about the bar is stamped into the obverse of the bar. Below the RMC logo and Republic Metals Corporation name, the weight of 100 Troy ounces and the purity of .999+ are listed, with the unique serial number at the very bottom of the obverse. The reverse is blank.

In terms of design, the 100 oz. Republic Metals Corp Silver Bar is a no-frills option. Yet, many silver buyers enjoy its simplicity. And, if it is an investment in fine silver that interests you most, the RMC silver bar fulfills that desire beautifully.

This 99.9% pure silver bar is available from GMRgold in either the 100 oz. or 1 Kilo weight. The 1 Kilo silver bar weighs 35.274 ounces, and may be a better option for you if you want to build your silver holdings gradually while fitting other precious metals into your investment budget. The 100 oz. silver bar allows you to build more rapidly with fewer purchases.

Silver coins and bars have been a significant part of the tradition of American precious metals investing for hundreds of years. RMC is the preferred choice of many investors in the U.S., partly because it is a well-respected American private mint.

100 Oz. Silver Bar - RMC

The more technologically advanced we become, the more industrialized countries will need silver to keep up with the changes that are already beginning to take place. That makes silver bars one of the best investments out there.

Fine silver has always been an exceptional value with great potential for profit. Since silver is used in many industrial and technological applications, the supply continues to shrink with each passing year. As time goes by, silver is likely to gain in value faster and faster. Yet, it is easy to add to your silver holdings now, especially when you buy large bars such as the 1 oz. RMC silver bar or the 1 Kilo Silver bar.

Silver retains and even increases its value for long-term investing. It is an excellent choice for serious investors. Among precious metal bars, the 1 Kilo or even the 100 oz. silver bar from RMC is one of the most liquid investments available.
